2. No person will be allowed in the ring when animals are being exhibited, except the proper committee, grooms, Superintendents and reporters.

Articles receiving first premiums will be designated by a red ribbon. Second premium, blue.

3. The Board of Directors will meet each morning at 9 o'clock during the week of the Fair. They will appoint all officers, committees and agents for the occasion; hear and decide all questions affecting the rights of exhibitors, or the duties of employes, and will have general supervision of the exhibition, and all differences between committees and exhibitors in regard to the rules and regulations will be referred to the Board at their office on the Fair Grounds, when in session.

4. The Secretary and Treasurer will keep their offices near the entrance to the Fair Grounds during the week of the Fair, and will be ready to do business at all reasonable hours of the day.

5. The Superintendent will provide for the wants of exhibitors; receive, arrange and keep in order, everything connected therewith; see that good order is maintained within the enclosure, and keep the Board well advised of everything connected with the exhibition. He will be aided in the discharge of these duties by assistants; the several duties of whom shall be to attend especially to the departments assigned to them.

6. An efficient police force will be on the ground day and night.

7. Ample arrangements will be made in the way of pens, stalls, feed and bedding for stock, but exhibitors will be required to pay fair rates for all grain, meal and hay used by them.

No exhibitor will be allowed, personally, to have access to the books of the Secretary during the Fair; but may, on proper application, have such explanations as are necessary made by the Secretary.

Persons occupying refreshment stands will not be allowed to sell intoxicating drinks. Any person violating this rule will forfeit his right to sell, and will be expelled from the grounds. The General Superintendent is instructed to have the rule strictly enforced.

No premium will be paid, or award published, for any fruits, vegetables or grain, either single or in collections, that have not been grown by the individual entering the same, or his authorized agent. Any complaint being entered against any person for violating this, an investigation may be had, and he be qualified by oath.

Exhibitors of stock will be required to keep their stalls open, and their stock accessible to visitors, at all reasonable hours during the Fair.

Exhibitors and visitors will take notice that no change whatever will be made in the foregoing rules and regulations, or in the instructions to judges, but that they will be strictly adhered to in every particular.

All premiums will be paid in full on Saturday.

AWARDING COMMITTEES.

1. Awarding Committees will be selected and notified before the Fair. Persons thus appointed will please be punctually on the grounds at the appointed time.

A majority of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

The committee, if not satisfied as to the regularity of an entry, will apply to the Secretary for information.

2. A premium will not be awarded when the article is not worthy.

3. The committees on animals will have regard to symmetry, early maturity, size and general characteristics of the breed which they judge. They will make proper allowance for age, feeding, etc., but will not give encouragement to over-fed animals in breeding classes.

4. No premium will be awarded to barren females exhibited in breeding classes.

5. The standard authority in all cases of pedigree of cattle shall be the English and American Herd Book; and for horses, the English and American Stud Book and American Turf Register.

6. Committees are instructed not to divide out premiums among exhibitors — but, in all cases, to award the premium to the best articles. The committees will be expected to give their reasons for their decisions, embracing the valuable and desirable qualities of the animals or articles to which premiums are awarded—in fruits, to give lists of collections in which they award premiums. And as one great object of the society is to collect valuable information upon the subjects connected with agriculture, the several awarding committees are requested to gather all the information possible from exhibitors in their respective departments, and make their reports as full as circumstances will permit.

7. Each committee will make its report of awards to the Secretary, at the business office, as early as possible after its completion.

8. The decision of the several committees will be final and irrevocable in regard to the premiums awarded

9. Any improper interference with the duties of awarding committees will be properly reported to the business office, and awards will be withheld for this reason; but, when called upon by the proper committees, exhibitors are requested to give all information in their possession to facilitate the labors of the committee.

☞ It is generally desirable that every exhibitor determine fully in what class and section he desires to compete before making application for entries.
